ABOUT VOLT HOCKEY

For many kids, hockey feels out of reach but Volt Hockey changes that.

This fast-paced, adaptive sport lets children and youth with disabilities play, compete, and belong as part of a real team.

Played 3-on-3 on an indoor court, Volt uses specially designed electric sport chairs operated by a joystick, giving players with limited mobility the freedom to move, pass, and score on their own. The game is quick, exciting, and full of laughter and teamwork.

Each Sunday at the Dakota Community Centre, players, families, and volunteers come together to celebrate inclusion, friendship, and the pure joy of the game.
